NOTHING LIKE a vacation to new the spirit. Thanks to Rosemary Paine who "sat in" while we were away and to everyone who said they missed this town.

It's overwhelming to hear over and over that people always read the ramblings first. We seldom write anything very earth-shattering, but to write about it and it seems should be better—or more so—or something.

However, this week has to be an exception simply because we've been away from the Albany scene for the better part of two weeks.

SPENT the first week painting and playing gin rummy in Shirley Jensen's back yard and taking bowling lessons from George Shraiber at Albany Bowl. The second week was spent at Jensen's cabin at Clear Lake, where the temperature was over 90 in the shade and the water was like a mirror every day. It couldn't have been more pleasant. We visited the Clear Lake Bowl every afternoon, enjoyed a memorable dinner at the Dunham cabin at the lake. Home with the same number of children we had when we left—plus six frogs.

MONDAY WAS like Christmas around the office. The Alfred L. Johnsons of Kensington brought a beautiful bouquet of home-grown carnations and there was a gift from May Ellis Olson—pin art earrings in the shape of miniature hand-painted plates and a shiny handkerchief, all mementoes of her recent trip abroad. Thanks!

SORRY TO LEARN that Meloland closed in Berkeley. Many Albany theater fans had season tickets and thoroughly enjoyed the programs.

THE NEW MECHANICS Bank beautiful. American Florist is applying the new quarters with floral arrangements. Did you know that it was through the efforts of the late Bea Raymond and the very-much-alive Joe Villa that the bank opened in Albany in 1935? Did you know the Albany branch is used as the training center for tellers? Many interesting sidelights came out at the well-attended Chamber of Commerce luncheon for bank officials July 18.

GOING WAY BACK, Albany at the county fair in Pleasanton was one of the best in recent history with many Chamber representatives present, including

City Council Approves $1,267,503 Budget, 11-Cent Tax Increase

Increase Needed for Civic Center Bond Fund--Turner

Members of Albany City Council Monday night proudly approved the 1966-67 budget of $1,267,503. Retirement of first bonds on the new City buildings necessitate an increase of 12 cents in the tax rate over last year, but the net increase is only 11 cents because the tax rate for general operations was decreased one cent.

In his budget message to City Council, Administrative Officer James B. Turner recommended a connection charge and/or sanitary sewer service charges be established in order that money can be made available to evaluate the sewer system and set up an organized program to correct deficiencies.

The total city tax rate goes from $2.15 last year to $2.26 this year.

The complete budget for the City of Albany for 1966-67 will be printed in next week's issue of the Albany Times.

Since the budget was first published several years ago, City Councilmen have come to realize that delivery of itemized expenditure of taxpayers' money by this means to every home and business in the city is a worthwhile investment.

year, including in both figures 35 cents of school tax collected by the city.

A breakdown of the tax rate includes: general fund, 72 cents; park and recreation fund, 43 cents; library fund, 17 cents; pension fund, 26 cents; library bond fund, one cent; 1965 public building bond fund, 32 cents, and school fund, 35 cents.

Included in the budget are five per cent salary increases for uniformed employees and a seven and a half increase for non-uniformed employees, who have not received any salary adjustments since August, 1964.

"Last year several more items of need have been accomplished or are under way," Turner reported. "The City buildings are now substantially complete, the General Plan for the city was completed, a pension program has been provided for non-uniformed employees, San Pablo street lighting is being prepared into a project, specifications are nearing completion for modern Fire Department equipment.

"This year these items should be completed together with several street improvement projects and the establishment of a fund-

Albany Jaycees Get State Action-Dempster

Jack Dempster, president of Albany Jaycees, reported to Albany City Council Monday night that 25 of 27 Jaycee districts in California unanimously voted in favor of the local chapter's resolution asking for state relief for state-impacted school districts such as Albany.

Ten Albany young men were represented at the state board meeting recently in Grass Valley. Now, Dempster said, the resolution will go to the state governmental affairs committee. Albany will be represented when the matter is considered.

Dempster said 26 cities have the same problem (providing education for children of University students without reimbursement) but only 10 cities were aware they had the problem.

Members of Albany City Council congratulated Albany Jaycees for their diligence in the matter. Councilman Joe Carlevaro termed the group "one of the smallest and the most vocal" in the state.

To show their appreciation in more tangible terms, Council increased the Jaycee budget allocation from $350 to $600.

Other Council Business

In other matters Monday night, Council:

APPROVED an additional bus stop at Buchanan and Jackson Streets, westbound; establishment of one-hour parking on the southerly side of Washington between San Pablo and Kains for the new Mechanics bank.

PASSED resolutions concerning elimination of a parking space on the northeast corner of San Pablo and Marin to permit a right turn; for relocation of a bus stop at Solano and Stannage; adopting the tax rate, establishing salaries, providing for car allowances and permitting execution of a contract with Albany Chamber of Commerce.

DENIED and referred to the insurance carrier and city attorney a personal injury complaint by Hermina Miller of 943 Solano. Councilman Lewis Howell noted that work was progressing well on Cleveland Ave.

Catherine Webb took Council to task for refusing to accept funds for the fountain at City Hall from members of the Albany Bay committee. She said they were insulted by this "retaliatory behavior." Mrs. Webb requested the city to keep the money. "We can disagree without being disagreeable," she said.

Councilman Joe Egenberger said the city must use earmarked funds for that specific purpose. The fountain was financed when the contribution was received, so the money had to be returned.

Bay Issue

A letter from Herbert Rubin of the Albany Bay committee was read. It referred to a recent decision of the State Lands commission on July 12 regarding the Emeryville bay fill.

The State Lands commission found that the "proposed plan of development by the town of Emeryville for approximately 300 acres of granted submerged lands in San Francisco Bay meets neither the trust requirements for commerce and navigation nor, in all instances, the test of 'general statewide interest' as set forth in the statutes."

Mrs. Webb said Albany is

Council Grants Jew Tom Extension to Jan. 1, 1967

Following an hour-long public hearing and discussion, Albany City Council Monday night voted 4-1 to grant an extension of a use permit to Jew Tom to construct a seven-unit apartment at 514 Kains. The action overruled previous action of the Planning and Zoning commission to deny extension.

Tom's original use permit expired in May while Planning and Zoning commission was considering changing the area from allowing apartment construction to commercial expansion use only. He had been told to wait until action was taken before submitting the application for extension, a move made necessary because of tight money.

Councilman Joe Carlevaro, who cast the only dissenting vote, said he was against the extension because Council would be "setting a dangerous precedent," would be increasing the density and would preclude commercial construction in the area. In addition, he said, such action was anti-procedure in that it was illegal to take such action to change the use of the land. He said Planning and Zoning had good reason to deny the application a few weeks ago.

City Attorney Larry Saler said Council in this case was acting as a judge, determining the applicant's right to that which Council and Planning and Zoning commission had previously given him. In his opinion, he said, extending a use permit was not changing the use of the land.

Mayor Richard Clark and Councilmen George Hein, Lewis Howell and Joe Egenberger stood together, repeating again and again that it would create a hardship and would not be fair to deny the extension to the applicant. Hein made the motion to grant the extension to Jan. 1, 1967.

Clark told Carlevaro that when he was talking about what Council may or may not do, he was forgetting that Council can reverse decisions or "rezone the whole city" if it wants to. He said the Tom case represented very unusual circumstances.

Egenberger said it was a matter of the right of an owner to protect his property. "We have to look at this whole business as an unfinished transaction," he said. "This use permit was in effect when we first thought of changing the zoning . . . when we vote for the motion (to grant the extension), we will be protecting an investment made by this man."

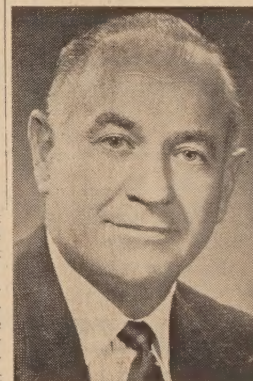

R. G. Buckwalter spoke at length against granting the extension, describing the area in detail and outlining reasons it should not be changed. Eleanor Miller then arose to tell Buckwalter he was describing the wrong block.

Later, under Good of the City, Buckwalter arose to make a "half-way apology," concluding with "I'm all wet."

"This is a red-letter day in Albany," Councilman Egenberger replied.

A public hearing on the publication budget was held last night by the Board of Education of Albany Unified School District.

The budget is based on estimated assessed valuation in Albany of $22,007,490 with a total tax rate of $4.76 per $100 of assessed valuation of property owners.

Also on the agenda was a report from Bert Griffin showing use and income at Tibany pool for 1965-66. A total participation of 84,497 and income of $19,360.35 was announced.

Progress is continuing at a normal rate on construction of the new buildings at Albany High school, the board was told. Completion date for the Industrial Arts building is about Oct. 15 with the Fine Arts building tentatively slated for completion by Jan. 1.

The board was expected to accept with regret the resignation of Manfred Funk, seventh grade teacher at Cornell school contingent upon securing an adequate replacement by Aug. 19.

Another resignation on the agenda was that of Mrs. Gwendolyn Luce, part-time French teacher at AHS. Recommended to the board for hiring were Mrs. Wendy Quackenbush as part-time foreign language teacher at the high school and Mrs. Doris Caldwell as school psychologist. Dr. John Wilhelm was recommended as team physician to be in attendance at all home football games during the '66 season.

Upon graduation in 1929, he joined the real estate and mortgage banking firm of Mason-McDuffie Co. as a real estate salesman. He went on to become general manager of the partnership and president of all its subsidiary corporations.

In addition to his responsibilities at Mason-McDuffie Co., Maurice Read served his profession in a variety of areas. He was president of the Berkeley Realty Board in 1939, and State President of the California Real Estate Association in 1945. For 16 years he was a member of the State of California Real Estate Commission, and when he was installed as President of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in 1965, a House resolution proposed by Assemblyman Don Mulford congratulating Read was unanimously adopted by the State of California Assembly.

Maurice Read's civic achievements attest to his love of and loyalty to his community. He was a past president of Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, of the San Francisco Bay Area Council, and of the Alameda County Taxpayers Association.

In addition to his wife, Laureen of 21 Tanglewood Road, Read is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charlene Labro of Paris, France, and Mrs. Marjorie Huber of Kentfield; a brother, Clarence Read of Portland, Maine; and seven grandchildren. A nephew, Robert Read of Berkeley, is a partner of Mason-McDuffie Co.

Rumford Committee Sets Hearing on Emergency Services

Assemblyman W. Byron Rumford of Berkeley, chairman of the Assembly Public Health Committee, has announced his committee will hold a hearing on emergency services Sept. 2, in Los Angeles.

Rumford said the committee is concerned with adequate provision of emergency services to all persons throughout the state regardless of their ability to pay. He stated that the committee has received reports of persons being denied emergency care because they lacked funds and of instances when no adequate emergency care is available.

The committee will hear testimony on planning for emergency services, the way in which counties provide emergency hospital and ambulance services and the general problems of providing emergency care before the victim reaches the hospital, especially transportation and communication problems.

PACIFIC DUTY

Electrician's Mate Third Class Louis V. Leimone, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Leimone of 1140 Garfield, Albany, has returned to the United States after a six-month deployment in the Pacific aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Robison (DDG-12). During the cruise the destroyer cruised off the shores of Viet Nam in support of U.S. forces ashore. She also visited such ports in the Far East as Hong Kong, Bangkok, and Manila.

Melodyland Drops Curtain

Melodyland producer Ben Kaplan regretfully announced the immediate closing of the Melodyland theatre.

"The King and I" scheduled to open Aug. 9 will not be presented, although it is currently in rehearsal. Nor will any other show scheduled for the remainder of the season be presented.

The reason for the closing is simply Melodyland's inability to meet its payroll. The theatre is totally without funds and is very heavily in debt. In effect, Melodyland is bankrupt.

The theatre opened during the summer of 1963 and was in the midst of its fourth season when the sudden announcement came.

Disastrously poor attendance and very severe losses during the entire first half of the season wiped out all funds, making it impossible to continue for the rest of the season. Producer Kaplan expressed his deep regrets to the subscribers and others who hold tickets for the balance of the season. It is unknown at this time when they will be able to count on receiving refunds for unused tickets. "We tried and failed," Kaplan admits. "We're sorry we couldn't continue for them," meaning the loyal Melodyland - theatregoers who did whatever they could to support the productions. The producer is also at a loss as to how Melodyland will be able to liquidate the heavy indebtedness to a number of firms supplying goods and services to the theatre.

by the Marine Corps schedule her son David is keeping. It begins with revile at (ugh!) 4:50 a.m. After that, his day goes like this: 5 a.m., chow; 5:30, clean huts; 6, drill, march; 6:30, exercises; 7, drill; 7:30, classes; 9:30, drill; 11:30, chow; 12:30, drill; 1:30 p.m., classes; 3, drill and exercises; 4, chow; 5, drill; 6, obstacle course; 7, drill; 7:30, shower, shave; 8, free time, and 9, lights out. David was difficult to arouse in the morning and never wanted to go to bed at night. Sounds like the Marine Corps is helping him correct both these problems.

State Treasurer Bert A. Betts said that residents of Albany are $86,625.00 richer each year because of savings and earnings he has developed in programs administered by the Treasurer.

Betts, on a visit here, said this sum is Albany's share of the estimated $98 million he saves and earns annually for Californians.

"Restoration of competitive bidding on State bonds, plus greater flexibility in bond sales, realizes some $40 million in savings on interest costs; while refinements in our program of investing State surplus moneys have increased earnings to $58 million," Betts said.

Betts, seeking his third term as State Treasurer, pointed out that both programs represent a Overeaters Anonymous will hold its regular weekly meeting on Monday, Aug. 8, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the lunch room of the El Cerrito Co-op grocery store, at 1751 Eastshore Blvd., El Cerrito. net gain to California citizens since money saved and earned by him would otherwise have to be raised through taxes.

A certified public accountant, Betts was elected Treasurer in 1958, and re-elected by a substantial majority in 1962. He is the only State Treasurer to have been named winner of the City of Louisville Award, conferred annually by the Municipal Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada upon the outstanding fiscal officer in those two nations.

A native of San Diego, Betts served in the U.S. Air Force during World War II, flying 30 combat missions over enemy occupied Europe and earning the Distinguished Flying Cross and four Air Medals.

ing program to abate sewer deficiencies.

"The City can continue to improve its services this year with a slight reduction in the property tax rate for the operating budget. There will, however, be required an increase in taxes to begin paying off the obligation incurred for the Civic Center complex."

New to the City of Albany is the assistance to the Park and Recreation Department by the Neighborhood Youth Corps. Five youths are currently working here and two more are expected shortly.

Changes

Council made some changes in the budget as originally drawn. While allowing funds for the Police Dept. to hire a parking enforcement representative (meter maid) and a clerk and the Fire Department another probationary fireman with the promotion of one of the firemen to captain, the three positions are to be for a trial period of one year.

They also increased the Albany Junior Chamber of Commerce allocation from $350 to $600 for this year.

Councilmen in turn paid tribute to Turner for his hard work on the budget and to each other for the long hours spent "hashing" if over and eliminating all unnecessary items.

Mayor Richard Clark said the budget is the "real heart of municipal government." He said the measure of a council is how it spends the taxpayers' money. He said raises for municipal employees "is a good, healthy thing. I hope we will be able to compete with other cities."

The mayor said he was happy to see the capital improvement fund for the Park and Recreation department to improve the park and recreational facilities. Councilman Joe Carlevaro said he was happy to see the recommendation for a sewer service charge and hopes something can be done to reinstate the after-school recreation program.

Councilman Lew Howell said, "I think it's a good budget we can live with. . . ." He said he was not sure about the need for a meter maid until he talked to merchants but now is convinced one is necessary.

Councilman Joe Egenberger, chairman of the finance committee and acting mayor during most of the budget sessions, said the mayor was gone two weeks but he went over every item in the budget before it came up for consideration.

"We've spent long hours during the past month," he said. "We really rolled up our sleeves and laid it on the line."

Other Council

showing a lack of realism in facing a similar situation with its waterfront plans.

"It is unrealistic to embarrass the city," she said. "It is time to think in regional terms. . . . You should have found a way to fit in with regional plans rather than to pretend we have a plan when we don't. . . ."

Howell said he does not think there is any comparison between Emeryville and Albany. He added that San Leandro's proposition, which is similar to Albany's, was approved by the Bay Conservation and Development commission last Friday.

"What does it take?" he asked.

In a letter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Brown praised the "efficiency and coordination" of the Albany Police and Fire Departments in fighting a fire next door recently. Copies will be sent to department heads.

The meeting was adjourned at 10 p.m.

State Awards For Auxiliary

The next regular meeting of the Bayview Eagles Auxiliary 2323 will be held on Aug. 9 at 8 p.m. A report on the zone meeting to be held in Vallejo on July 31 will be given.

At the last meeting two awards were reported presented to the Auxiliary at the state convention. One was for the neatest slippers submitted out of several thousand pairs donated to the needy. The winning slippers were made by Ruble Johansen. The other award was for the largest donation made to the Salk Foundation. The report on the "Come As You Are" party on July 12 was most satisfactory and the chairman, Colleen Worley wishes to thank all who helped her.

Refreshment chairman for the month of August will be Kathryn Hightman.

Would You Believe?
Would you believe one child took the time to thank a PTA lady for the "good show"? He said, "Boy, you sure get a lot for 25 cents."
Would you believe elementary school children can go without eating for two hours?
Would you believe a child could enjoy a movie without popcorn and a beverage?
Would you believe that only 15 of the approximately 225 children in attendance took the customary "short walk" during the feature film last Wednesday?
You better believe it because it has been proven during the Albany PTA-sponsored junior matinee this summer. Call 526-4522 for information.

In an average year in the United States, at least 10,000 firemen are felled by fumes from burning buildings—mostly from carbon monoxide. It is hard to estimate how many eventually die as a result of this smoke poisoning but cardiologists and chemists took an on the scene smoke samples and blood samples of the Denver fire fighters in an eight month research program.
Many authorities and doctors felt that repeated exposure to carbon monoxide may shorten a fireman's life by as much as 15 to 20 years. The best protection against this condition is the insistence that all firemen wear protective breathing equipment.
The Albany Fire Department has long realized this and outfits its members with latest breathing masks to be used at fires. Statistics have proven that this type operation greatly reduces this hazard or eliminates it entirely. But what about the citizen who goes to bed at night and does not check out his home for any hazards that may cause fire and fill his home with this deadly carbon monoxide without his knowledge.
It should be a routine operation for the citizen to check out all sources of fire before retiring for the evening. This little extra time may save his life.

Chinese Boy 'Adopted' by Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Rogers

Chan Ping Ho

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan L. Rogers, 832 Gooding Dr., Albany, have financially "adopted" Chan Ping Ho, a seven-year-old Chinese boy, through Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., 352 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10010.
The "adoption" is financial, not legal, and costs $15 a month for a minimum of one year. Upon receipt of the first payment the Foster Parent receives a photograph and case history of the child. Every month the child writes to his "Dear Foster Parent" and the Foster Parent writes to the child. PLAN translates original and translation. Before long there is a warm personal relationship. The child wants to know all about the Foster Parent—his family, his community and his country. In turn he tries to describe his own family and way of life.
Ping Ho's father came to the teeming refugee city of Hong Kong in 1949, after serving for four years as an apprentice printer on the mainland. He found employment in a printing shop and, for a time, all was well. About four years ago, he developed a serious and crippling form of rheumatism in his right leg. For some time, he underwent treatment at the hospital. Finally, the doctors decided that he could not be cured except through an operation which would involve much time away from his home and work. Unwilling to leave his job, the father suffered on. Now he can walk only with the help of a crutch and has such severe pains that he often cannot work. Because of his inability, he cannot work as much or as often as the other men and manages to earn only about $25 a month.

Ping Ho's mother is illiterate and unskilled. She is, moreover, tied to her home and the care of Ping Ho's two little brothers, Ping Man (5) and Ping Wing (2½). By assembling paper boxes at home, she earns about 10 cents a day to supplement the father's income. The total amount which they make does not cover the basic necessities of their lives.
They live in a dark cubicle measuring 6½'x8' in a wooden shack. Six other families live in the shack. They have an iron bunk bed, a wooden desk, a sewing machine and various odds and ends. There is a large window so the room is well ventilated and is always kept tidy and clean. They use a kerosene lamp for light and fetch their water from a hydrant. Rent is $3.50 per month.
Almost no education is free in Hong Kong and the small tuition fees are often prohibitive, always a sacrifice for very poor families. It costs $3.51 in tuition alone to keep Ping Ho and Ping Man in school. Ping Ho attends the morning session of Upper Kindergarten and in the afternoon, does his homework and helps his mother make boxes. He is shy and withdrawn in the presence of

Mother Lode Trips Planned By Berkeley Y

Unique travel experiences are being offered in YMCA trips that will visit the gold mining regions of California and Nevada. The groups will tour by bus such places as the Anaconda Mine, Sutter's Mine, Hangtown, old time museums, ghost towns and other exciting historical areas.

The third through sixth graders may have fun while learning the history of the once rich mining towns of Central California. Sierra Nevada Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knudson, who led the trips last year, will head up these expeditions into the Mother Lode country. They will be assisted by top notch camp counselors. There will be a leader for every seven to eight children.

The boys' trip will be Aug. 15 to 20. The girls' trip will be Aug. 22 to 27. The children will have the opportunity of learning camping skills in addition to history first-hand. Group responsibility will be fostered by such activities as helping to set up the camp, helping in preparation of meals and in clean-up.

For additional information call the Berkeley YMCA, 848-6800.

Philippine Folk Dance Group Presents Recital in Berkeley

The Philippine Junior Folk
Dance group, under the direction of Mrs. Manuel (Rosita) Arcol, will present their first recital in two years on Saturday, Aug. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Florence
Schwimley Theatre, Grove and Allston, Berkeley.

Mrs. Arcol has recently returned from the Philippines,
where she collected new dances.
The children will perform these as well as some of the old favorites.

The PJFD practices each Saturday at the Albany Recreation Center. They are supported by an organization of mothers, who also make their costumes and props. Since there are so many different cultures in the Philippines, there is a great variety of dances and costumes — Moro, Spanish, Oriental, as well as dances of fishermen, farmers and primitive mountain tribes.

The public is invited to attend the recital. Admission is a donation of $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12. For further information contact Mrs.
Nick Mamaril, 526-6556.

The dancers, who range in age from four to 14 are: Manuel Ar-col, Jr., Nancy Fitch, Fe and Amy
Mamaril, Marco Meniketti, Caryn
Nenneman, Bobbie Cacanindin,
Mario Demapeles, Jenny, Bren-

846 Masonic Ave.

Vacations, illness and long lazy summer days have tended to slow down activities at the Center but action is beginning an upward swing.

The bus for the trip to the Seniorama to be held at Santa Cruz on Friday, Aug. 19, is filled, but keep your bid in for a seat as very often there are last moment cancellations. Home trade-ins as a sales technique in the tight money market will be studied by real estate brokers, salesmen and homebuilders during a series of five one-day educational conferences sponsored by the California Real Estate Association.

The CREA Home Trade-In Conference is scheduled for Aug. 8 at the Coronado Hotel, Coronado; Aug. 9 at Disneyland Hotel, Anaheim; Aug. 10 at Pickwick Park, Burbank; Aug. 11 at Sacramento Inn, Sacramento; and Aug. 12 at the St. Claire Hotel in San Francisco.

Jerome Blank, Realtor of Albany, conference chairman, said that he and four other Realtors with heavy experience in trade-ins will address the group.

"Trading is one of the bright spots in the tight money market," Blank remarked. "People want to buy and they are well able to, so the demand and capability are there. It's only the squeeze on sources of financing that gets in their way. That's why the Realtor who can work out a home trade-in is earning the gratitude of his clients and finds business better than ever, in spite of tight money."

Mal Serman of Baltimore, Maryland, one of the East's leading trade-in brokers, will address the conference on "Advertising and Merchandising the Trade-In Program." He has been especially successful in telling the public about home trade-in plans, Blank said.

"Why Have a Trade-In Plan?" will be the subject of a talk by Bernard Gerton, Realtor of San Lorenzo. He will cover the guaranteed trade, the direct trade and the equity loan.

Blank's topic will be "Financing Home Trade-Ins in a Tight Money Market." He will discuss sources of funds available for trade-ins and explain the financing of a typical trade-in transaction.

"Negotiating the Trade," will be covered by Phil Yeager, Realtor of Covina. David Stone, Realtor of San Jose, one of the nation's leading authorities on trade-ins, will speak on "Putting the Trade-In Plan Into Action."

Blank said the attendance fee of $25 will include luncheon and a new Home Trade-In Manual. Tickets and reservations may be obtained through the California Real Estate Association, 520 South Grand Avenue, Los Angeles, California 90017, telephone 628-0551, he said.

Applications are now being taken for fall enrollment in Albany Nursery School in Albany Community Center.

Interested persons may contact Mrs. David Eckhoff, membership chairman (524-7100), or Mrs. Stephen Allison, president (524-7942).

The cooperative nursery school, sponsored by the Albany Adult school and the Board of Education is open to all Albany residents. Directresses for the school are Juvata Rusch, afternoon program, and Mildred Messenger, morning programs. There are three sessions open for the children. Those from two years, nine months to three years, six months attend Tuesday and Thursday mornings; children from three years, six months to school age go on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings. The five-day afternoon program is open to children who are four to five years old.

The tuition for the two-day session is $15, the three-day, $22.50, and the five-day, $37.50. Parents of children who have already been accepted for the fall semester are to pick-up and turn in registration forms at the nursery school before the summer program ends on Aug. 19.

MEDICARE (A Series)

The Berkeley Visiting Nurse Association has been certified by the Social Security Administration as meeting all requirements for participation as a Home Health Agency under the Federal Medicare Program, Gerald O. Dewhurst, District Manager for the Social Security Administration in Berkeley, announced today. This agency, located at 2121 McKinley Avenue, Berkeley, California, is under the supervision of Margaret A. Hoff, Executive Director.

The Berkeley Visiting Nurse Association, now serving residents of Berkeley, Albany and Kensington, had its inception in 1906 after the San Francisco fire and earthquake.

Miss Hoff advised Dewhurst that a liaison nurse from the agency has been placed in both Herick and Alta Bates hospitals to work with the patient and the doctor in coordinating home health services.

"The Federal Medicare Law provides up to 100 visits by a qualified medical worker to the home under the hospital insurance part of the law and another 100 visits under the Supplementary Medical Insurance part of the law," Dewhurst explained. He pointed out that this should allow the patient to return home with the assurance of continued competent medical assistance to enable him to recover or be rehabilitated.

"Congress considered this part of the law so important that they included it in both plans under Medicare," he pointed out.

Dewhurst explained that home health services include part-time nursing care; physical, occupational or speech therapy services of home health aides; medical social work; some medical supplies except drugs; use of some medical appliances and certain rehabilitation services that cannot be brought to the home.

The Berkeley Visiting Nurse Association offers skilled nursing care and physical therapy service. Where other types of home health care services are not available, the Association will refer or make arrangement for patients to go to the appropriate source for such services. "I want to congratulate the Board of the Berkeley Visiting Nurse Association on being the first home health agency in the Berkeley area to qualify for participation in Medicare."

Registration Open For Family Camp

Labor Day weekend is the last chance for a restful outing before school starts.

A best bet for an experience of this kind at a reasonable rate is the YMCA Family Camp on the Gualala River among the redwoods of Sonoma County. Mothers can relax and won't have to cook. Supervised programs are planned for the children. All regular camp activities are available. Boating, swimming, hiking, volleyball, square dancing are featured.

Pre-registration is necessary. Call the Albany Y for information, 525-4833.

Summer Fun Trips at YMCA

An interesting month of activities has been scheduled by the Albany YMCA, including several overnights and all day excursions for boys and girls. These trips are being organized by Terry Werksman and Ross Ewoldsen, summer youth leaders at the Y, and are available to boys and girls from seven through 12 years of age.

Following is a schedule of planned events: Aug. 4-5, boys' overnight; Aug. 9-10, girls' overnight.

August 16 a co-ed trip to Golden Gate Park, San Francisco is planned. This day-long excursion over the Bay Bridge will include an exciting show at the Morrison Planetarium, entitled "Life in Other Worlds." Part of the day's fun will be a tour of the park's museums and the fascinating Steinhart aquarium. A real thrill for everyone!

On Aug. 23 there will be a co-ed trip to Frontier Village. A ride to San Jose, and the group will enter a world of make-believe and all the thrills of the Old West.

Colored Movie

The August meeting of the American Association of Retired Persons will be held on Aug. 9 in the Albany Senior Citizens building, 846 Masonic Ave., at 1:30 p.m.

A short business meeting will be followed by a colored film of California's Kings River Canyon.
